Dear Parents and Carers,

Re. Union Industrial Action

I hope that you and your families are all well.

You will no doubt have seen recent speculation in the news about potential industrial action by members of the National Education Union.

I am writing today to let you know that, following a ballot of union members, it has now been confirmed that teachers will be holding four days of strikes in the South-West. This action – which is the result of a dispute between the NEU and Government and does not involve individual schools – will take place on February 1 and March 2, and provisionally on March 15 and March 16.

I am sure you will have questions about what this means for your child. As you can imagine, we have been preparing for the possibility of industrial action over recent weeks. Lessons will continue where it is safe and practical to do so, but please understand that some disruption is likely.

I appreciate this could have a knock-on impact on your own work and family schedule; we anticipate being able to confirm what impact the strikes will have on Summerhill Academy and on your child's arrangements during the course of next week.

In the meantime, if you have any questions, please do not hesitate to get in touch on the playground, via ClassDojo, in the office, or at info@sa.clf.uk.

Yours faithfully,

Chris Barratt
